Reviews

A brand new electronic book with a new standpoint. It is written in basic phrases rather than confusing. It has been designed in an extremely basic way which is merely right after I finished reading through this publication where it basically altered me, changing the way I believe.

He explained. All were allowed to pass. The only food the unhappy fugitives had had for four days was two potatoes each. Every minute the Germans had told them that they would be shot next day. We may ask how it can be possible for human beings to torture other human beings in such a fashion. And yet this was not the worst. Several thousand men, women and children were taken to Cologne, and ill-treated for a whole week, with unparalleled cruelty. The following is the history of a first group as related by a witness who, obeying the order to leave the town, set off on Thursday morning in the direction of Aerschot. At Rotselaer they were all arrested, men, women and children, to the number of two thousand eight hundred. The men were separated from the women and, children, and were informed that they were to be shot; then they were marched back to Louvain. They spent the night near the railway station in the rain, without food or shelter. The German soldiers had robbed them of everything, money, papers, jewellery, umbrellas and overcoats. On the morning of Friday, the 28th, they were put into a train; eighty of them were squeezed into cattle-trucks, in which there was sufficient space for about thirty, and the floors of which were covered with a thick layer of manure. They did not arrive at Cologne till the afternoon of...
