Tate Publishing & Enterprises. Paperback. Book Condition: New. Perfect Paperback. 108 pages. Dimensions: 8.0in. x 5.1in. x 0.2in. When you see role models like scientists, medical doctors, pharmacists, engineers, pilots, attorneys, pastors, bankers, farmers, you may ask yourself a question, Can I also do it I am telling you now, you can. All you have to do is believe in yourself. Every child has a dream that must be achieved with personal discipline, education, prayer, and hard work. Seeing the importance of growth, development, and success of Latino American children, author Cajetan Ihewulezi has created a successful solution through his first-hand experience. Forward March to Professionalism encourages Latino American children to start making wise choices about education, career, friends, and activities early in life, and outlines how every decision can help or hurt the pursuit of your dreams. Ihewulezi offers his personal story along with other amusing anecdotes to make every child understand that they can achieve anything they want. By first stimulating the mind to set solid goals, Ihewulezi then lays out an extensive guideline to follow in order to achieve the success. He gives hope to every child, in every situation. Cajetan Ngozika Ihewulezi is a Catholic priest. He received his first Masters degree at Duquesne University in Systematic Theology and a second Masters at St. Louis University in Historical Theology. He is currently earning his doctorate in Homiletics at the Aquinas Institute of Theology. This item ships from multiple locations. Your book may arrive from Roseburg,OR, La Vergne,TN.
